The N.F.-Board is a Football Associations established in Belgium December 12, 2003, in Brussels pub called "A la Mort Subite" (ironic for a birth certificate), under the leadership of Jean-Luc KIT WFO (World Footballs Observatory®) since February 4th, 2003 and with the help of a few friends at the time, including Luc MISSON (attorney of Bosman case).

It is in fact only on June 23rd, 2006, that free association was registered in the Registry of Liege (Belgium), to become an ASBL (non-profit organization) under No. BCE 0878.822.770.

The name of the N.F.-Board being deliberately written with dots (.) and has never meant "Nouvelle Federation Board" or anything else (somehow to create the buzz).

The N.F.-Board has as its motto "Now everyone can play !".

And he accepts as Football Associations members (associations), all associations that are not members of FIFA, until their eventual membership in this one.

Do not claiming competitor with FIFA, N.F.-Board wants simply complementary and in harmony with the Laws of the Game of the IFAB (International Football Association Board). The English writer Steve MENARY having qualified in his book "Outcasts" N.F.-Board like "Waiting Room of the FIFA" and its 2005 General Assembly in its diversity comparable to the famous scene of the movie "Star Wars Bar". However, the N.F.-Board accepts as Fédération member organizations that legally recorded. In its statutes, it must be admitted, like for in FIFA, one Football Association per entity. Thus, the N.F.-Board agrees to join the Football Associations representing Nations Peoples, Ethnic groups, Minorities, Populations of geographically or sporting isolated (islands of all kinds, war zones, stateless ...), or some Micronations legally and/or hard to dispute. Only must remain outside the stadiums, politics and religions.

With force compliance with these values (international, national instances & laws) that N.F.-Board in June 2005 signed a partnership agreement with the UNPO onbtenu and in January 2011 a major international recognition with his répertoration on list of ECOSOC NGO's of UNO.

Organizer of the 2006 VIVA World Cup™ entrusted to her from the outset by its creators, the NFB has been renewed in 2013 in this role by VIVA World Cup Limited. (owner), after the resounding success of the fifth edition of this played in 2012 in Iraqi Kurdistan competition.

The NF-Board who lit his lantern until the Universe obscure non-FIFA scene (where all evolve unaffiliated with FIFA and sometimes N.F.-Board itself), became the undisputed leading organization. Sometimes copied and pirated, it has never been equaled. The N.F.-Board also has the admiration of the Media, in that it consists only of volunteers and enthusiasts who spend freely for the forgotten Football are no longer forgotten. 2/ Definitions & codifications :

ISomf® codification : The NFB uses ISomf® codification based on UNO's ISO 3166-1 alpha 3 codifications when they exist and regarding a defined entity. When there is no ISO code, the WFO (World Foot-balls Observatory®) creates a temporary ISO to its formal establishment. This list is available to the WFO.

Countries (States): The most common way is now the state or sovereign state. However, "country" is less accurate and more neutral than "state" and is used to designate geographical areas with very different status. All countries follow recognized international standards in terms of national symbols such as flags and political rights such as citizenship. There, in 2013, 195 countries recognized by the UNO. Other countries are not there at the UNO, for political reasons, such as Taiwan.

Nations : To the Dictionnaire de la langue française, a nation is a "set of people living in a common territory, conscious of its unity (historical, cultural, etc..) And constituting a political entity".

People : For linternaute.com , a people is a set of human beings forming a structured community of identical origin.

Ethnic group : For the Centre National des Ressources Textuelles et Lexicales, an ethnic group is a group of human beings who have, more or less share a common socio-cultural heritage, especially language. The most common confusion is that overrides the race ethnicity and vice versa. (...) The ethnic group is natural for determining which come into consideration especially the culture and language. While the race is a group determined by scientists.

Tribes : According to Wikipedia, ethnology, a tribe is a social group usually consists of families of the same origin.

Minorities : According to Wikipedia, in international law, a minority is a group of people bound together by religious affinities, linguistic, ethnic, political, encompassed in a larger population of a state, language, ethnicity, religion , different policies. Minority rights is recognized and described in various charters and declarations internationales. On therefore speaks in international instruments of the United Nations and UNESCO, the rights of ethnic minorities, linguistic, religious.

Populations or Territories geographically or sportingly isolated sportingly : Populations living on islands, territories at war, or not allowed on the international sports scene.

Micronations : A micronation is an entity created by a small number of people claiming the status of an independent nation or who has characteristics, but is not formally recognized as such by official nations or transnational bodies.
